

Almost a hundred years ago our government worked to ensure a fairer and more equitable society by diminishing the power of the few to monopolize business and the power that money creates. Today the first amendment rights of all citizens is in jeopardy due to the legal consolidation that this ruling would enable. Our government should be working to ensure a level playing field so that all entrants are able to take their chance, especially when it comes to media and the shaping of public opinion. THis ruling would limit competition and allow the few to control the many. THis contradicts the constitution and the intent of our founding fathers.
